2022 GRADUATION CELEBRATION
THE FOURTEENTH OF MAY, TWO THOUSAND TWENTY TWO

School of Medicine & Health Sciences
THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
2022 GRADUATION CELEBRATION
MAY 12, 2022 | 4:00 P.M. | LISNER AUDITORIUM
Dear Health Sciences Graduates,

Today is a very important day in your lives and careers, and like the many faculty members who guided you on this journey, I am proud of each of you for the many accomplishments you’ve achieved during your time at GW SMHS. As we look forward, I am excited about what you will do in the years ahead and I am grateful for your commitment to the future of health care.

I know that your years at GW will be memorable, not only because you studied and contributed to the fight against the world’s largest health crisis in a century, but also because you persevered, you were resilient, and you have accomplished your goals.

In the coming days, as you take the next steps in your careers at an exceptional time in the history of medicine and health sciences, I hope that you will keep your minds open and continue to grow, learn, care, and contribute to the health care profession. I am confident that you will have a positive impact on the patients you serve and on the health and wellness of our local, national, and global communities.

On behalf of the School of Medicine and Health Sciences, I wish you the very best on this graduation day, and I welcome you into the GW SMHS Alumni Community.

Warmest regards,

Barbara Lee Bass, MD, FACS, RESD ’86
Vice President for Health Affairs
Dean, GW School of Medicine and Health Sciences
Chief Executive Officer, The GW Medical Faculty Associates
Professor of Surgery
LETTER FROM THE SENIOR ASSOCIATE DEAN

On behalf of the faculty and staff of the George Washington University, let me congratulate each of our graduates. We acknowledge your dedication and applaud your accomplishments during your education in the School of Medicine and Health Sciences. The mission of GW Health Sciences is to drive innovation and quality in health and health care delivery through education, scholarship, and service – locally, nationally, and globally. We embrace core values of diversity & inclusion, collaboration, and innovation as we live that mission. We are grateful for the contributions you have made during your time at the School of Medicine and Health Sciences to help shape a community that values cultural and intellectual diversity and demonstrates integrity, creativity, and innovation.

Your education at GW has also been reshaped by the COVID-19 pandemic. The pandemic has challenged you to learn and your faculty to teach in new ways, while maintaining your collective focus as millions of individuals all around the world have faced this devastating infectious disease and its complications. Society and our health care systems alike faced tremendous challenges. I am heartened that we can gather together today to see you walk across the graduation stage on campus this year; your accomplishments and perseverance during this challenging time prove how valuable you will be to the health care and research communities you will serve. You have earned this moment, so let us celebrate it with excitement and open hearts, but also with care and compassion for the many families who have faced loss during this difficult period.

Today, you become a part of the university and the school's alumni family. This family is stronger and more dynamic because of your talents, passion, and capabilities. Some of you will heal through innovative and compassionate care. Others will advance biomedical, translational, and health services research. Many will contribute to cultures of excellence, and you bring us hope for a better future in health care and the health sciences—a future where attaining the highest level of health for all people is realized. Take time to thank the many people who supported you during your journey to this point. Consider honoring that support in the years ahead by helping others reach their goals and career aspirations. Let me end with a few words of wisdom and guidance that others have imparted to me. Serve others with compassion. Accept that you will never possess all the knowledge you need. Instead, learn to harness knowledge and recognize your own limitations. Be an agent of positive change within your community. Be present—take time to nurture your personal and professional relationships. Finally, choose the path of leadership, and lead through your character by embracing courage, integrity, selflessness, empathy, collaboration, and reflection.

Along with all the faculty and staff in the School of Medicine and Health Sciences, I offer my congratulations and wish you every success in your future endeavors.

Sincerely,

Reamer L. Bushardt, PharmD, PA-C, DFAAPA
Professor and Senior Associate Dean for Health Sciences

SCHOOL OF MEDICINE & HEALTH SCIENCES PLEDGE

I will lead my life and practice my profession with integrity and compassion, treating each individual I see with dignity and respect.

I promise to comfort, care, and work toward curing the sick and disabled and will strive to promote the health and well-being of all the people for whom I care.

I will work for the benefit of, and avoid harm to, the individuals I serve and those who are my colleagues; and even if directed, I will do nothing that I believe could harm my patient.

I will use my knowledge and skill to serve all individuals, regardless of race, gender, religion, disease, or social status.

I will respect the privacy of every person and will hold confidential all information about patients for whom I care.

I pledge to continue to learn and grow in my profession and continually seek to gain new knowledge.

I will constantly strive to contribute to my profession through teaching others who can benefit from my knowledge.

I promise to pursue each of the tenets of this pledge with strength and courage, to the utmost of my power.
